OF INTEREST TO WATER CONSUMERS

Water consumers are being notified that water will be shut off at 4 a.m. Monday next, for the purpose of cleaning out the reservoir. We understand this job will necessitate the greater part of the day and house-holders and others are advised to have sufficient supply in reserve for that day. We also understand that the fire siren will be sounded in a test at 9 o'clock on Monday morning, to ascertain as to whether it can be heard at the reservoir's, a distance of about two and a quarter miles.

HILLCREST CHALLENGES WHITE LUNCH CUP

Carmanagay, holders of the White Lunch cup, will play Picture Butte, first winners of the trophy, at Carmanagay on Friday and Saturday. Carmanagay has a team representing that town playing in the Camrose tournament starting Thursday and asked to have the Picture Butte series postponed till Monday and Tuesday, but the cup trustees decided that the dates would have to stand in order that the challenging teams might have an opportunity to play for the cup before the end of the playing period on August 15th. Hillcrest and Coutts already have challenges in and New Dayton, Spring Coulee, Carleton and Lethbridge Miners all want a crack at it before the close of the cup season.

Hillcrest will play the winners of the Carmanagay-Picture Butte series on Tuesday and Wednesday next.

Once upon a time a man got up early one Sunday morning to let the iceman in, and not being able to find his bathrobe he slipped on his wife's kimono. BELLEVUE FISHERMEN ENGAGE IN COMPETITION

The Bellevue Fish and Game Association held their annual fishing competition at the North Fork on Sunday last.

The party comprised over fifty members, many of whom were accompanied by their wives and children.

Prizes were won as follows: Heaviest bull trout, Joe Kovach; second prize, A. Mattson. Heaviest speckled trout, W. Hampton; second, Jack Wyatt. Heaviest grayling, Joe Kovach; second, Harry Plasmann. The prize offered by James. Allsopp for the heaviest bull trout for a day's fishing, was awarded to Pete Genino.

DROWNING BARELY AVERTED - AT SOUTH FORK CANYON

What came very near being a serious drowning accident occurred at the South Fork Canyon a week ago last Saturday, particulars of which have just become known.

A party of boys, who had been under the charge of Mr. C. W. Gahn, of the C.P.R. at Frank, undertook fishing in the pools near the canyon, when one of the boys, Arnold Smith, slipped and came very near being swept away by the current. The other lads, Benny Gant, of Lethbridge; Nelson Gahn, of Calgary; Wilson Mackenzie and Robert and Clarence Smith, of Frank, by forming a human chain, succeeded in reaching the lad and dragged him to the shore. The boys immediately undertook first-aid methods to resuscitate the lad, and with the assistance of Mr. Gahn, who arrived at the scene in a few moments, were successful. The lads were all between the ages of 12 and 14 years and we understand that Benny Gant, who supervised the first aid effort, has been awarded a medal for efficiency from the Boys Scouts.

Growth Of Co-Operation

Catching The Vision Of Things That Might and Can Be Done

"Co-operation is a growth and a way of living. Each day a larger and larger number of men and women awaken to the full significance of the truth that no man can live unto himself. There are still those, even in this young country, where progress is second nature, who have not been awakened. They have not yet caught the vision of things as they might and can be. They simply do not understand, and we must not become impatient, even with these backward members of society."—A. J. McPhail, President of Saskatchewan Wheat Pool.

Japan Favors Canadian Wheat

Wheat From Dominion Has Supplanted U.S. Product In Japanese Market

Quality and price are the factors which have enabled Canadian wheat to completely supplant the United States produce in the Japanese market, declares Tetsuhiro Shoda, president of the Nishin Flour Mills Company, Limited, who was in Vancouver in the course of a trip of inspection which will take him to the wheat centres of Canada, United States and Europe.

The company which Mr. Shoda heads imports an average of 250,000 tons of Canadian wheat annually. It is all shipped through Vancouver. Mr. Shoda has been in the milling business for thirty years and operates 12 flour mills in all parts of Japan with a combined capacity of 25,000 barrels per day.

Manchurian wheat offers no serious prospect as a possible rival for Canadian wheat in the Japanese market, according to Mr. Shoda, on account of the uncertainty of deliveries, lack of handling facilities and absence of organized grading.

Cross Crossings Cautiously

National System Starts Drive To Combat Level Crossing Accidents

As a further effort in the campaign to reduce crossing accidents, the Canadian National Railways, through the Director of Safety, W. A. Booth, have distributed two thousand copies of a special card from the lithographed face of which, in an appeal to motorists, and others, to "Cross Crossings Cautiously." These posters are being sent out from the headquarters of the three regions in England, Toronto, and Winnipeg. Atlantic, Central and Western, respectively, so that every Canadian National grade crossing in the Dominion will be marked. The instructions are to place these posters on poles close to the railway crossings and on the right hand side of approach.

In the letter of instructions it is stated "The time is now opportune when aggressive methods must be taken to combat the increasing number of highway accidents."

Abolish Corporal Punishment

Juvenile Offenders in Britain May Escape Birch Rod

Youthful law-breakers in England will no longer have to fear the birch rod if a movement to abolish corporal punishment for young offenders is successful. W. Marked Growth Is Evidenced On All Sides In City Of Regina

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

VEGETABLE SALAD MELANGE

Cook one cup of shredded string beans until tender in boiling, salted water, with one-half teaspoon of sugar. Do the same with one cup of shelled peas. Mix the peas and beans with one cup of shredded cucumber and one-half cup of thinly sliced radishes. Add French dressing and let stand a half hour. Meanwhile, hard-boil six eggs, halve them, and cut off the ends so they will stand upright. Arrange the halves of the eggs on salad plates. Arrange crisp lettuce leaves around each egg half, and place some of the vegetable mixture on the leaves. Serve very cold with mayonnaise.

VANILLA CUSTARD FLUFF

1 junket tablet.
1 tablespoon cold water.
1 pint milk.
1½ tablespoons sugar.
½ teaspoon vanilla.
2 eggs.

Crush the junket tablet and dissolve it in the cold water. Add sugar to milk and heat to lukewarm—not hot. Add vanilla and beaten egg yolks. Stir in the stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Then add the dissolved junket tablet; stir a second. Pour into individual dessert glasses; let stand in a warm place until firm; then cool before serving. Some of the egg white will rise, making fluffy topping. Sprinkle with grated nutmeg.

Explanations and Comments

The First Captives Taken To Babylon, 1:1, 2.—It was in the third year of Jehoiakim's reign, 605 B.C., that Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, first besieged Jerusalem and carried back with him to the land of Shinar (the old name of Babylon; Gen. 10:10), Jewish captives, together with some of the treasures of the temple which he then had placed in the treasure-house of his god Mar-duk. Among the captives were Daniel and three other youths of our lesson. Daniel belonged to a family of high rank in Jerusalem, and, according to Jerome, was at this time only a boy.

The Training Of Daniel And His Companions In Babylon, verses 3-7. Nebuchadnezzar directed Ashpenaz, the master of his convicts, to take the Jewish youths of noble birth who were especially fair and bright and wise, and were therefore potential candidates for official positions, and teach them the language and wisdom of the Chaldeans. The king also directed that the youths were to be nourished with a portion of the food and wine which were prepared for himself. After three years they were to become his attendants.

Among the youths selected were Daniel and three companions, Hananiah, Michael, and Azariah. Daniel's name meant "God is Judge"; Hananiah's, "Jehovah is gracious"; Michael's "Who is what God is"; and Azariah's, "Jehovah has helped." Ashpenaz called them instead Belshazzar, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, giving them names which, in his thought, had reference to Babylonian deities.

For First Offenders

Attorney-General Of Ontario In Favor Of More Frequently Suspending Sentence

The Attorney-General of Ontario, Hon. W. H. Price, would enlist the sympathy of judges and others in favor of more frequently suspending sentence on first offenders. After a long and varied experience it is his opinion that lives are frequently wrecked by court sentences for offences against the laws that are really not very serious in character. It is undoubtedly true that once a boy or man has the stigma of conviction against him he is badly handicapped in the race of life. Mercy is not being asked for those hardened in crime, but for those who have committed their first fault. One cannot but sympathize with the idea.

Judgment Is Reserved

Privy Council Withholds Decision On Dominion Fisheries Act

The judicial committee of the Privy Council reserved judgment on the appeal of the Dominion of Canada from a ruling of the Canadian Supreme Court which held that sections 7a and 22 of the Canadian Fisheries Act of 1914, were ultra vires of the Dominion parliament.

The important point at issue is whether under the British North America Act which gives it power to legislate "on seacoast and inland fisheries" the Dominion parliament can set up a system of licensing of fish canners as it sought to do under the sections of the fisheries act.

The provinces of British Columbia, Quebec and Ontario, are respondents in the action as well as British Columbia fishermen of Japanese origin.

Towns Form Boards Of Trade

"There is no better evidence of faith in a district than the example of its business men forming a Board of Trade to advance its welfare," says the Edmonton "Chamber of Commerce News." "During the last month, boards have been organized at the following towns: Thorburn, (R. Baker, Secretary); Kinuso, (C. R. Field, Secretary); and Slave Lake (A. Peart, Secretary)."

From January 1, 1928, fire losses totalled $11,135,950, and from January 1, 1929, to July 10, 1929, they were $12,976,250.

WINDOLITE The Improved Glass Substitute

COMES WITH A MESSAGE OF HEALTH

THE sun is the all-powerful life producer. Nature's universal disinfectant and germ destroyer. It is the source of life and health. WINDOLITE is the sun's most important ally.

Medical research has definitely proved that from the point of view of Health and Hygiene, the most effective among the sun's rays, are the Ultra-Violet rays, which possess the greatest power for the prevention and cure of disease and debility.

Science has further established that ordinary window glass does not allow the passage of Ultra-Violet rays, so that by using glass we are artificially excluding these vital health-giving rays. Therefore, the invention of WINDOLITE has completely satisfied the long-felt want. Exhaustive experiments have conclusively proved that it is a most effective substitute for glass, that it freely admits the Ultra-Violet rays, and that its use has a most beneficial effect on the growth and development of plants and children, on the well-being of cattle, enabled for the first time to have healthy light instead of darkness in their shade.

Indeed, the discovery of WINDOLITE has during the last six years completely revolutionized gardening, giving a new stimulus to poultry breeding, increasing the egg-laying capacity and fertility of chickens, has greatly improved the health of cattle and is now being used in domestic and household requirements.

The Singing Fool

By HUBERT AIT

Copyright, 1933, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Marcus, the famous Broadway producer, heads a party of four that visits Blackie Joe's night club in downtown New York. Al Stone, Blackie's chief comedian and singing waiter, begs Molly, the hall singer, to render a love song he has just written for her. Molly is disdainful and refuses even to read the song. Al is in love with her but she tells him harshly that she will never marry a waiter. Then she leaves her dressing room and goes to the Marcus table, trying to ingratiate herself with the famous producer. Al is in despair, the cigarette girl, who loves Al and wants to see him happy, asks him what is the matter.

CHAPTER V.

"Nothing's the matter, kid," said Al, making a show of throwing off his depression. But his was a smile belied his words.

Grace gazed hopefully up into his face. Her expression said plainly that if he would only confide in her she was sure she could help him. Slowly he studied her young, sensitive features. She was an awfully sweet kid, undoubtedly, and she liked her, but—

At that moment someone else arrived to interrupt his thoughts. Blackie, all excitement, entered the corridor, calling out:

"Get ready Al—you're on next!" Al turned back-lustre eyes toward Blackie. Then, suddenly, a plan that had been forming vaguely in his mind ever since Molly's harsh exit, took definite shape. He drew himself up and said quietly:

"Blackie, I'm quitting tonight." Blackie retreated a step as if he had been struck, while a little cry of amazement escaped Grace. Her hand went to her mouth in a quick gesture of apprehension. Blackie was the first to recover himself.

"Don't be a fool, Al," he said earnestly, putting a hand on his singing waiter's shoulder. "You've got a good job here and a following among the customers. You can't quit off-hand like this—why, it wouldn't be fair to me or to your self."

Al nodded slowly. Yes, he had thought of that. But there were other things to be considered. "You won't miss me," he suggested.

ed. "You've got lots of talent. And I simply couldn't sing a comic song tonight—it's impossible the way I feel. And Blackie—I don't want to be a waiter any more. I want to write. The waiter racket will never get me anywhere—I know it!"

Al's vehemence increased as the words poured from his mouth. He saw his way clearly now—he would leave this place and never see Molly again. "That was the only way to solve his problem. Suddenly his sense of reserve was lifted from him; he determined to give Blackie his complete reason.

"The only reason I've hung on here," he exclaimed passionately, "was to be near her! She's turned me down—and it hurts. She's the only person in the world I want, and without her— Well, you can see now why I can't stay."

His voice trailed off at his concluding words and his shoulders sagged hopelessly. Blackie nodded. Again his hand rested confidently on Al's shoulder. He could see how vitally this affected his prize singing waiter—why, the boy's whole world had been turned upside down?

"Molly—eh?"

Al's head came up at the mention of the beloved name. He nodded. "I wrote her a song—a love song. I poured my heart into it because it was for her. I wanted her to sing it, so she'd know how I felt toward her, but you know what she did? She wouldn't even look at it; she laughed."

I found the song sheet here on the floor where she had walked on it."

Al glanced down at his hand, which still held the crumpled sheet. There was nothing more for him to say now; Blackie understood at last. If Al's explanation of his sudden decision astonished Blackie, it produced reactions that were much more startling and complicated in little Grace. She was not only hurt because Al was hurt, but, for the first time, resentment flamed up in her toward Molly. How could Molly, who was able to put such a wealth of feeling into the rendering of a song, be in such an unfeeling way toward Al?

Grace's slim white fingers pressed hard against the sides of her cigarette tray until the skin went white. A sudden wave of passionate anger toward the other girl swept over her; she wanted to turn, rush into the main room, and upbraid Molly for her heartlessness. Keen-eyed Grace knew that Molly had left Al to go to the Marcus table. She knew Molly was trying to worm her way into the good graces of the producer.

Then the anger passed as quickly as it came, while an expression of tender sadness crossed Grace's face. She realized that these admissions of Al's meant that she could never mean anything to him, never have a chance to help him. They meant that he would pass out of her life completely, perhaps within a few moments. She felt tears welling up in her eyes, but she bravely fought them down.

By this time a plan was emerging in Blackie's mind to aid his singing waiter. After all, Al was his friend as well as his star performer in the floor show, and he wanted to do him a good turn if he could.

"Why don't you read your song to Molly?" he suggested, with assumed carelessness.

"She won't listen," Al answered. "To her I'm only a waiter—a mug!"

"Then why don't you sing it to her?" continued Blackie, springing his idea. "She's out there now—she'd have to listen!"

Al shook his head. "I can't sing it. It's a love song—a ballad." "You know I've never been able to sing the heart-throb stuff. That's not my line. I'm a comic!"

"You haven't sounded so darn comic," Blackie countered quickly, "telling us all this. How do you know you can't sing a heart song? Have you ever tried it—I mean in public?"

"No, I've never tried one on the floor," Al admitted, "but I've tried rehearsing them and I was an awful flop."

"Yes, but don't you see, this is different. You wrote this song for Molly and you feel it. If you go out there and forget yourself, and sing it at her, you can make her feel it. Take a chance—they can't tell you. If the song goes over she'll understand for the first time how you really feel about her. Look what you stand to win!"

Al stared into the earnest eyes of Blackie, almost convinced. Could he do it, could he put the same feeling into his singing that had possessed him when he wrote the song? If he could he might be able to touch Molly's heart, as Blackie suggested.

Little Grace watched anxiously the play of expression on Al's face. She saw clearly what Blackie was driving at before Al saw it, and she hoped desperately that he could prevail on Al to try the song. If the words touched Molly's heart at least Al would be happy, which would make Grace happy.

"I'll do it," he said finally, with a gesture of decision. "I'll show her I'm something better than a waiter. I'll put everything I have into that song!"

Blackie wrung his hand. "Go to it, boy," he said enthusiastically. "You'd better make your entrance as soon as you can—while you're in the mood. Meanwhile, I'll see how the show's going."

When Blackie disappeared Grace also vanished down the corridor. But as Al came out into the main room a moment later he heard his name called. Grace slipped over to the side, looked up into his face with a forced, wistful smile and whispered:

"I'll be rooting for you, Al!"

"Will you, kid? Say, I appreciate it."

He raised his hand, patting her lightly on the cheek, as he would have caressed a sister. He noticed that her cheek was too warm, but he thought it was merely from excitement.

As he turned nervously away Grace raised her hand to her face, where his hand had rested for an all too brief moment. The spot was burning. She saw him move lightly across the room and approach the pianist to give him the new music. The pianist's mouth opened in astonishment at the idea of Al Stone, the comic, singing a heart song. Then Grace saw the man she loved heading for another woman. Would he put it over?

American Chemical Society Told Gasoline Can Be Made From Trees

Gasoline made from trees is announced in a report to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Jacques C. Morrell and Dr. Gustav Egloff of Chicago.

They have produced an anti-knock motor fuel from the tar in the Douglas fir. While this fuel now is in the laboratory stage, the report says it can be made in commercial quantities from present wood waste.

"The development of a practical and economic means of converting wood waste into motor fuels," says the report, "has a deeper significance than the immediately important factor of conservation. It provides a source of motor fuels for the future which is under the direct control of man."

"Our great storehouses of potential motor fuel from petroleum, coal and oil shales are heritages from past ages, while wood tars and other vegetables are producible under controlled conditions."

Approximately 24 per cent. of the standing tree is converted into useful products, while 76 per cent. is wasted.

New Invention a Success

Pittsburgh Has First Aluminum Street Car In World

Pittsburgh has the first aluminum street car in the world. This car, as either the Pittsburgh Railway Company, or the Aluminum Company of America will say, has the formal title of the new lightweight aluminum car No. 6002.

This innovation in car building marks its first trip through the Southside and Southside districts. The car is built for vision—for the passengers. It has windows without the usual paneled obstructions—and those same windows can be raised or lowered at leisure with the same ease that the same sort of gadget as in an automobile.

The vehicle was built with special attention to speed, comfort and safety. The seats are form-fitting and one can recline in ease in them. The car is a non-sid composition. The light is subdued, and so as to give their rays almost directly.

Something In Weather Cycles

Records Show Seasons Have Frequently Followed Same Curve

Looking back over weather records makes one believe, says an English writer, that there really may be something in the sun-spot theory of a ten-to-twelve year cycle of weather over Western Europe. There was a spell of hard-winter in 1895, another in 1904, a third in 1916, and now here we are having a fourth in 1929. The summers, too, have followed more or less the same curve. But why should sun-spots affect only Western Europe? Must not the influence of the Atlantic Ocean be taken into the account?

Rebukes Cameraman

Colonel Lindbergh Did Not Like His Disheveled Method

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh delivered a lecture at San Francisco on honesty and integrity. The colonel, whose aversion to sound reels is well known, was approached by a "talkie" cameraman, who had a microphone concealed under his sweater. The flyer detected the ruse and said: "That's not honest; why didn't you approach me with the microphone in plain sight? That would have been the honest thing to do." He refused to talk for the "mike," because you have not been fair in this matter."

Little Helps For This Week

"The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms."—Deut. xxxiii, 27.

What though the way be rough and steep? What though we stumble as the blind? There's joy reserved for those who weep.

The everlasting arms are kind. What matters it if sorrow come? What though the night be dark and long? The darkest cloud but hides the sun; The everlasting arms are strong.

One great purpose in all affliction is to bring us down to the "Everlasting Arms." What new strength and peace it gives us to feel them underneath us! We know that, far as we may have sunk, we cannot go any farther. Those mighty arms can not only hold us, they can lift us up. They can carry us along. Faith, in its essence, is simply a resting on the everlasting arms. — Theodore L. Cuyler.

Canada's Day-Old Chick Industry

Number Of Chicks Sold Each Year

The baby chick industry has grown to such an extent in Canada that the Department of Agriculture has taken action to safeguard the interests of the buyers of day-old birds. From a small beginning a few years ago the industry has already reached enormous proportions, and the number of chicks sold each year runs into the millions. The Department now provides a guarantee that a farmer buying chicks from an approved hatchery may rest assured that the stock from which the hatching eggs came conforms to a high standard of excellence, and that the hatchery in which the chicks were incubated was clean, sanitary, and well conducted.

What Is a Good Government?

Hon. R. D. Bennett, in addressing a meeting at Stratford, Ontario, recently asked a question, and in answering it, gave a definition of a good government. He said:

"Is it not true that we had a government that would look after the interests of Canadians and Canadians only? You say that is a selfish policy. Ah, my friends, all good governments are selfish and the measure of the goodness of a government is the measure of its selfishness."

Mr. Bennett was, of course, discussing the relative merits of the tariff policies of the Liberal and Conservative parties, and especially so in the light of the impending tariff changes at Washington. These being issues of a partisan character it is not our intention to discuss them, or express any opinion in regard to them. But it is quite in order to analyze and discuss Mr. Bennett's dictum that "all good governments are selfish," and that the measure of the goodness of a government is the measure of its selfishness.

Governments under our democratic system of responsible government are, or should be, but a reflection of the people themselves. They are brought into being by the expressed will of the people and are supposed to give expression in legislation and administration to the wishes of the people. Therefore, if a good government is a selfish government, it follows that selfishness is the sign manual of a good people, and that the selfishness of any people is the measure of their goodness. Do the Canadian people believe this? Are they prepared to accept it as true?

Acceptance of this doctrine would be to deny all the teachings of Christianity. It would be to nullify and reject the Golden Rule. It would set up a standard of conduct for nations and peoples that could have but one result—continual warfare.

If the measure of the goodness of a government is the measure of its selfishness, then a "good" government in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, or any of the other provinces, would be one which pursued a policy designed to advance its own interests regardless of the interests and welfare of the other provinces, or of the Dominion, or of the Empire as a whole. Such a policy would mean endless friction, constant turmoil, the ultimate smash-up of Confederation.

Suppose, for example, that rightly, or wrongly, the Western Provinces of Canada insisted that their particular interests demanded the complete removal of all customs tariffs, and they refused absolutely to give any consideration to the views, the interests, the welfare of the Eastern Provinces which believe in customs.

All government is a matter of compromises. No one group of people, no one community, no one province, can selfishly insist upon acceptance of its views and its policies to the detriment of all other groups, communities and provinces. But if selfishness is to be the measure of a good government, then, insistence by each group, or community, or province, upon its own views and policies means that any and all compromise will be impossible, and government itself must fall.

Acceptance of Mr. Bennett's doctrine would condemn the governments of Great Britain for many decades past to the worst governments in the world, because it has been the policy of British Governments to adopt policies of unselfishness, to assume heavy burdens and accept great responsibilities in behalf of backward peoples and smaller and weaker nations. Great Britain unselfishly entered the war against Germany in defence of the rights and integrity of Belgium. Following the war Britain waived all debts owing to her by other allied countries, save, and except an amount sufficient to cover her own indebtedness to the United States. These are but two comparatively recent examples of British policy, but it is being exemplified at almost every meeting of the League of Nations. That League, for example, could not exist five minutes if the nations of the world were animated by, and acted upon Mr. Bennett's definition of what constitutes a good government.

The most selfish form of government is an absolute autocracy. How would Mr. Bennett like Premier Mackenzie King to adopt the selfish attitude of Mussolini in Italy, take all powers of government into his own hands, and prohibit any opposition parties from functioning? That's selfishness in government. Is it good? Whatever Mr. Bennett may think, the people of Canada want none of it.

Sea Should Be Better Illuminated Says French Writer

A well-known French writer has pointed out that ships have been backward in making use of the great improvements made in modern electric lighting. He states that in this modern age of illumination the sea is the only part of the globe which is plunged into obscurity at nightfall, and recommends that ships should employ powerful signals like the headlights of motor cars. Undoubtedly the weakness of ships' lighting is a contributory cause to many collisions that occur at night, and the fuller study of the possibilities of more powerful electric lighting is worthy of the labors of the Conference (the International Conference for the Safety of Life at Sea.)

New Plane Is Climber

British Machine Reaches Four Mile Height In Fourteen Minutes
An all-steel airplane that can climb to a height of four miles in less than 14 minutes is the latest addition to Britain's air fleet. The plane is a single-engine equipped with a super-charger and specially-gearred Jaguar motor developing 400 horse power. With a full load of machine guns and ammunition in addition to electrically heated clothing and oxygen breathing apparatus, it can climb to a height of six miles. Its top speed is 185 miles an hour.

The plane is intended to take off from a home defense aerodrome and to climb rapidly to get above enemy raiding machines as soon as information is received that they have crossed the coast.

LIFE WAS A BURDEN

Health Restored Through the Use Of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

"I am writing to express my gratitude for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me," says Mrs. W. J. Dowling, Tottenham, Ont., and further says: "It was so badly run down that I felt that life was a burden. The doctor said my blood was due to poor blood, but his medicine did not help me. My face was sallow, my lips bloodless and at the least exertion my heart would palpitate so violently that I would have to stop. My feet and legs were cold and stiff, and all my friends thought I was in a decline. In this condition I was urged by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got three boxes, and to my delight, by the time I used them I began to feel better. I got a further supply and kept on taking them. Daily I felt myself growing stronger. The color returned to my cheeks and lips and I felt a new interest in life. To sum up I can now say that I am feeling fine, for which I give the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I strongly recommend to all weak girls and women."

A useful book, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail post paid, on receipt of price, 50c. Try them today.

Increased Travel To The West Indies Follows Inception Of New Service

Since the inception of the new service between Canada and the British West Indies, by the R.M.S. Lady Nelson in December last, the Canadian National steamship's boats have been practically booked to capacity on every sailing. Traffic from Canada to the West Indies has developed tremendously since the inception of the new Canadian National line, and there has also been an increase of travel from the West Indies into Canada particularly in the summer time when attractive rates give the West Indies business men an opportunity of going to Canada to study the markets there.

A record kept at Montidier, France, 1784-1869, of dates of arrival of birds and rainfall reveals a marked relationship to sunspot variation, according to investigations made at the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa. For instance, the cuckoo on the average arrived two weeks later at sunspot maximum than at minimum.

No Unemployment

Problem in Iceland

Country Offers Great Opportunities Through Undeveloped Land

Iceland has no unemployment problem, not because folks have to work to keep warm up there, but because Iceland is an undeveloped land of great opportunities.

The unemployed of Reykjavik totalled eight men on May 1. Six of them were more than 60 years old and in ill health. The other two said they had just left their jobs, and could get better ones.

Iceland, peopled with only 100,000 inhabitants, could comfortably find accommodation and employment for 500,000.

Iceland wants dirt farmers, not men to keep the bright lights of Reykjavik burning. The native farmers are good farmers, but not scientific agriculturists.

Government authorities maintain that Iceland could produce far greater quantities of agricultural products than at present, as the soil and climate are excellent for many crops.

An Important Industry

General Public Does Not Realize Value Of Canadian Fish

The fishing industry is one that rarely receives much attention from the general public, but it is an important and growing industry in this country, as one realized in scanning the concise items sent out from time to time by the fisheries branch at Ottawa. We catch them all the way from salmon to walrus. For example, we sold $2,071,000 worth of fish, nearly all netted, to Australia in that country's fiscal year, 1927-28. In the first two weeks of May, this year, 20 whales were taken by a company operating from Rose Harbor, B.C. The whales taken off British Columbia are used in production of oil, meal, fertilizer, and are valuable, too, for their whalebone.

Maintains its Popularity

Canadian Salmon Still Holds First Place As To Money Value

Canadian fish have won a great reputation abroad, a reputation that shows in accumulating orders on an expanding scale. This country's salmon, the most valuable monetary item in the catch—still maintains its popularity.

Cod, which appears to have been the first lure for the hardy European fishermen of the long ago, comes next, and the succulent lobster, his third place. Sardines are in the swim too: there have been fine orders from New Zealand and Australia of late years for these tasty fish and the trade in them grows.

Eliminating Level Crossings

Will Take Time But Fund For This Purpose Is Available

It is to be recognized that $200,000 a year will not make for very rapid progress in eliminating the many hundreds of level crossings in Canada, but this fund, known as the railway crossing fund, at least offers opportunity for gradually getting rid of some of the worst of these death-traps. Dr. S. J. MacLean, assistant chief commissioner of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners, has drawn attention to the existence of this fund and suggests that it be available in Saskatchewan.

Dr. MacLean has pointed out that the sum of $200,000 is voted annually by Parliament for the elimination or improvement of railway crossings, and this sum is at the disposal of the Railway Board to distribute as it sees fit. Alberta has recently been granted a considerable amount, and Manitoba has also taken advantage of the fund. Manitoba, in fact, in co-operation with the Railway Board, has done good work in getting rid of some dangerous railway crossings. This has been done by some minor changes in roads and highways, making it unnecessary to cross railway tracks.

Some day the authorities may undertake to eliminate every level crossing in Canada, but, on account of the huge expense that would involve, the time appears a long way off. Meanwhile a good deal can be accomplished by the means outlined, and Dr. MacLean's suggestion ought to be widely considered—Regina Daily Post.

Canadian Teachers' Federation

1930 Convention Will Be Held At Edmonton

The selection of the venue for the 1930 convention of the organization, the election of the executive committee, and the adoption of a number of resolutions comprising the final business transacted at the closing session of the tenth annual conference of the Canadian Teachers' Federation at Quebec.

Edmonton, Alberta, was chosen for next year's conference at a date to be decided later by the executive committee.

The following members were elected to the executive committee of the federation: G. H. Ford, New Westminster, B.C.; A. J. Powell, York, Sask.; J. R. Mackay, Saskatoon, Sask.; A. E. Heard, Winnipeg, Man.; J. E. Robertson, Toronto, Ont.; Miss L. E. Brittain, Montreal, Que.; H. C. Ricker, West St. John, N.B.; J. A. D. Good, Truro, N.S.; and C. E. Jolly, Summerside, P.E.I.

Cautions Is Necessary

Motor Drivers Should Use Heads As Well As Horns

"Use your horn that's what it's there for," is the sound advice of a traffic authority to motorists. He urges them not to steal up behind the unsuspecting pedestrian or pass another vehicle from the rear without giving some signal. "Get the horn-blowing habit," is his injunction. But drivers should also be urged to use their heads, or what are supposed to be heads. Horn-toting should not take the place of caution. A blast of the horn neither entitles the blaster to the right-of-way nor guarantees him a clear path.

Denied Entrance To States

Young Toronto Inventor Claims He Has More Powerful Substitute For Gasoline

Denied entrance into the United States even for an hour, during which time he had expected to lay his invention before officials of the General Motors Corp., Jack Star, 197 Grace Street, Toronto, claims that he has a lighter and more powerful substitute for gasoline.

Mr. Star is a comparatively recent arrival in Canada, his name in Europe being Jacob Staraselski. He is a former racing motorcyclist, and said he had been working on his formula for nine years and had visited Europe, Asia and the continent in search of sources of supply. He carries credentials from Sir Herbert Samuel, British commissioner for Palestine, Mustafa Kemal Pasha and other notables. His researches have involved great expense and long study, he says, and he is working now to obtain world patents on his discovery. He declares he had made arrangements with Frank J. Kinsler, attorney, of Detroit, to assist him. He was denied entry to Detroit, however, for an hour, although he had offered to leave his car with the authorities at the ferry dock.

GERMANY TO ACT AS INTERMEDIARY IN EASTERN CRISIS

Berlin.—The German government has agreed to take over the interests of China in Russia, and Russia in China, for the period in which direct diplomatic relations between those countries remain disrupted. It was emphasized on all sides that this was a certain indication of the administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

Requests for its good offices came to the foreign office from Russia through the German ambassador at Moscow, and from China, through the legation of that government here.

The break between Russia and China over the Manchurian situation has become a diplomatic actuality with the German government, and it must take charge of Russian interests in China and Chinese interests in Russia.

Nanking.—Formal notification of Russia's decision to cease relations with China was received at Nanking in a second telegram, which carried out the warning of the first Russian note of July 13.

President Chiang Kai-shek summoned an emergency conference of Nationalist government leaders to consider the Manchurian question, after receipt of a telegram from Governor Chang Hsueh-Liang that "the situation is extremely grave" in view of Russian troop concentration along the frontier.

The Nationalist government had apparently not lost hope of reaching an amicable settlement with Russia. Japan was possibly prepared to intervene between Russia and China in the interest of peace in the Far East. Premier Hamaguchi and Foreign Minister Shide Hara, while not "officially" informed of developments, conferred on the situation as conveyed in the press reports.

Moscow newspapers continued strong disapproval of the Chinese reply to the original Russian note.

Seattle Water Front Fire

Union Pacific Dock Is Completely Destroyed By Flames

Seattle.—In Seattle's biggest waterfront fire since 1914, the Union Pacific dock was completely destroyed, with damage estimated at $1,000,000. Six injured firemen were recovering from burns and suffocation at the Providence hospital.

The fire started beneath the flooring on the Bay end, of the dock. Apparatus was drawn from twenty stations to fight the blaze, and traffic stalled on business streets while engines and truck companies roared down Seattle's hills to the dock. The city's three fire boats were also called out.

The papers entitle them to engage in any kind of business from building railroads to publishing newspapers under the name of the Plaza Service Corporation, on a capital of $20,000.

The young ladies who legally admit they are splinters, are Misses Ella Dolores, Bertha Cornier and Jessie Dickson.

Cornwall, Ont.—Explosion of a coal-oil stove is believed to have caused a fire which swept five residences on Guy Street, East Cornwall, causing the death of four persons who were trapped in the burning building and injuring four others. Property loss is estimated at $25,000 to $30,000.

Expect Larger Apple Crop

Ottawa.—Canada will have a big apple crop this year. The commercial crop is expected to be 11 per cent. greater than last year, and 21 per cent. greater than the five-year average with a total of $4,099,417 barrels.

London-Paris Electric Railway Is Planned

Scheme Would Employ Fifty Thousand Men For Ten Years

London, Eng.—The Observer says that the committee on English channels and communications, which will report late this year, probably will outline plans for an electric railway from London to Paris at an estimated cost of $900,000,000.

The reported plan calls for a road which it would take 50,000 men ten years to build.

The plan contemplates twin tunnels under the English channel, the Observer said, each 23 feet in diameter and 44 miles long. The line would use a railway track on a seven-foot gauge.

Tremendously powerful electric locomotives would be used to haul trains from London to Paris in the rapid time of 2 hours and 45 minutes, if the plan outlined by the newspaper is carried out.

Will Head New Bank

Hon. Sir Robert Borden Elected President Of Barclay's Bank, Canada

Montreal.—The Right Hon. Sir Robert Borden, former prime minister of Canada, was elected president of Barclay's Bank, Canada, at the first meeting of the shareholders held here.

Sir Robert will assume his new duties on September 3, when the bank will commence business. Arthur B. Purvis, elected vice-president, and J. R. Booth was appointed manager.

In addition to Sir Robert and Mr. Purvis, the following were elected to the board of directors: Hon. L. A. Taschereau, premier of Quebec; A. A. Magne, W. O. Stevenson, H. P. Alton, and J. S. Crossley.

Lower Potato Crop

Canadian Acreage Shows Five Per Cent. Decrease From 1928

Ottawa.—The Canadian potato acreage indicates a five per cent. decrease from 1928 figures, with 568,000 acres as compared with 599,065 acres last year. Western provinces report practically the same acreage while Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes all report slight to fairly heavy decreases. In British Columbia a good crop is anticipated. In the prairie provinces dry weather conditions are creating fears that the potato crop will be light this year.

Defer Driving Golden Spike

Ottawa.—The golden spike which will mark the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway will not be driven this year after all. Chief Engineer Czwilak, of the Canadian National Railway, has returned from an inspection of the railway and reports that a million yards of ballast must still go down, and it will be October before this work can be carried out. It will be 1930 before the railway can be considered as completed to tidewater.

No Cause For Alarm

Edmonton.—General conditions in the west do not give cause for any alarm over the danger of unemployment this winter, was the opinion expressed by Hon. Robert Forke, federal minister of immigration, on reaching here from the East. He was accompanied by W. J. Egan, deputy minister, and had on his program an immigration conference with the provincial government.

Grain Board Appointment

Ottawa.—The appointments in connection with the re-organization of the grain board will not be made until the first August meeting of the Dominion cabinet. Hon. James Macleod, Minister of Trade and Commerce, made this announcement. The minister declined to indicate how many of the present board would be replaced by new men.

B. C. Fire Losses Higher

Vancouver.—Fire losses in British Columbia during 1928 amounted to $2,067,554, against $2,622,905 in 1927, showing an increase of more than forty-four thousand dollars, according to the annual report of J. A. Thomas, provincial fire marshal.

Had Miraculous Escape

Vancouver Salesman Pinned Under Interurban Car Had Hand Injured

Vancouver.—Charles Kinniburgh, aged 80, a Vancouver salesman, was pinned for more than a half hour in his demolished touring car under a big steel British Columbia electric interurban car, but escape with a bruised hand. The interurban had to be jacked up before he could be released.

Kinniburgh was driving across the intersection when the interurban crashed into him, overturned his car and ran up on top of it. Although the electric car was crowded, no one on board was injured.

Kinniburgh was imprisoned in the driving seat of his automobile with only his head and shoulders visible. Police squads, railway employees and ambulance men laboured feverishly to extricate him, but without success until a large jack was brought and the interurban lifted. The imprisoned man directed the operations, although suffering agony because of the manner in which his hand was caught. After his release it was found at the General hospital that he had suffered no other injury.

RUSSIA BREAKS OFF RELATIONS WITH CHINA

Moscow.—Russia has broken off diplomatic relations with China.

The Soviet government made public its reply to the Chinese note, the latter having come in response to an ultimatum from Russia. In this note the Soviet Union said that all means of reaching an amicable settlement had been exhausted.

The note placed the entire responsibility for all consequences upon the Chinese government. It announced also that all Soviet diplomatic and consular officials and all government commercial representatives would be recalled at once, from China.

It further declared that all Soviet officials would be recalled from the Chinese Eastern Railway; that all railway communications between Soviet territory and China would be suspended, and that the diplomatic and consular representatives of the Russian government would be ordered immediately to leave the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

The Russian action in breaking off diplomatic relations with China came at the expiration of time set in an ultimatum, which the Soviet Union despatched to the Central Republic headquarters on July 13. That ultimatum gave the Nationalist Government, at Nanking, three days in which to rescind its action in seizing the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria.

It also demanded restoration to office of the Russian officials who had been deported from their places in the railway and the liberation of all Russian nationals who had been imprisoned. By the terms of the ultimatum, the closing of Russian institutions in Manchuria, such as banks, railway unions, and business syndicates was also to be rescinded.

Canada Wins Kolapore Cup

Eight Marksman Recapture Famous Trophy Lost Last Year

Bibley Camp, Eng.—Canada won the Imperial Kolapore Cup. Eight marksmen picked from the Canadian Bibley team recaptured the famous trophy Canada lost in 1928, by a margin of 33 points over the Mother Country, with India, Guernsey and Jersey following in that order.

The Canadian team aggregate was 1,083, while the Mother Country aggregated 1,050. The cup was shot for at three distances, 300, 500, and 600 yards.

Canada had gained a lead of 18 points at 300 yards. At the 500-yard distance their team aggregate had reached 729 points to 708 for the Mother Country.

The standing of the five contesting countries at the 300-yard distance, first of the three ranges, was Canada, 360; Mother Country, 342; India, 336; Guernsey, 233; Jersey, 325.

Government Is Powerless

Cannot Refuse Clearance To Liquor Boats Under Present Law

Ottawa.—The matter of refusing clearances to liquor-laden boats destined to the United States is not within the competence of the federal government as the law stands at present, nor can it come within that competence until authority for such a course has been given by act of parliament.

This was the statement of Hon. W. D. Buler, minister of national revenue, in an interview. "I adhere to the sentiments expressed on that subject last session, and I am convinced that subsequent developments have borne them out."

Postpones Atlantic Flight

Unlikely That Coste Will Make Attempt This Year

Paris.—It appeared improbable here that Dieudonne Coste would make another attempt to fly across the Atlantic this year. He has not abandoned his plan, but when asked when it might be carried out he replied laconically: "There is no hurry." The backers of the flight, who built the aeroplane and its motors, have been silent concerning a new attempt, which gave support to the growing belief that it was not likely to be in 1929.

Berlin-London Television Service

Friedrichshafen, Germany.—Dr. Hugo Eckener has stated definitely that the next flight of the dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, to the United States, has been planned for the first week in August, but that the date has not yet been fixed.

WILL REQUIRE LESS HARVEST HELP THIS YEAR

Winnipeg.—Not more than 25 per cent of the harvest help that hustled westward to the prairie provinces last summer to assist in harvesting a bumper crop will be required this year to clear a comparatively small showing of grain, a promising crop indeed last spring, but one that has suffered from the ravages of a boiling sun, continuous waves of intense heat and lack of moisture.

Where a force of 50,000 husky young men from Eastern Canada augmented by several thousands young Englishmen brought overseas for the purpose, were put to work last year harvesting thousands of acres of wheat, probably 16,000 and certainly not more than 15,000 will be sought to work in the west's heat-stricken fields next month.

This was an estimate given recently by J. A. Bowman, general superintendent of employment for Manitoba, who was interviewed by the Canadian Press.

The unemployment situation throughout the west is not considered serious, in the opinion of Mr. Bowman. Hundreds of men are working in Winnipeg and other centers at the present time, he said, but the situation was not at all unusual.

No difficulty is anticipated by the Manitoba unemployment bureau in placing hundreds of available men near here when harvesting gets under way.

He added that only a small number of outside help would be needed if the dry weather that is now prevailing in all three prairie provinces continues for another week.

ANNOUNCE NAVAL DISARMAMENT TERMS SHORTLY

London, Eng.—A full statement on naval disarmament negotiations between Great Britain and the United States may be made in the House of Commons before the Parliament rises at the end of July, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald announced.

The Premier said he was doing his utmost to expedite the negotiations but that he was not certain the statement would be forthcoming.

Besides discussing disarmament, the House of Commons heard from the Right Hon. J. R. Clynes, Home Secretary, just why Leon Trotsky, exiled Bolshevik, wasn't permitted to enter England.

Right Hon. Winston Churchill, as energetic and insistent in opposition as he was a leading cabinet minister, fairly prodded the Laborite Premier into a disarmament statement.

Premier MacDonald characterized as "a most unworthy suggestion" a question by Churchill whether it was to be understood that "a most grave and important decision of this kind is being withheld until parliament has separated." The premier explained that it was obvious the question was not in his hands alone, that a very complicated set of circumstances existed and that when one deals with international questions it was not with a cabinet or a department alone.

"I hope the cabinet will not ask me to tie my hands," he added.

In a statement regarding Trotsky, Mr. Clynes disclosed that the British Government feared the difficulties that might arise in securing the fallen Bolshevik's leader's departure from Britain if his presence should become embarrassing.

In some circles in Britain it has been felt that the manner of Trotsky's application for admission to England was ill-advised. He made the request immediately after the Labor Government came into power, expressing his sympathy for the new administration. At a time when their critics were searching for every opportunity to embarrass them, Labor leaders were most careful to make no gesture toward Trotsky which might be misinterpreted.

The question of the attitude of the Dominion toward the resumption of diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Russia was again dealt with in parliament when members pressed for more information on the correspondence between Britain and the Dominions.
